Introducing the Class of

The 1983-84 school year was full of different events, fashions, and happenings all over the world. Unforgettable world events included the bombing and killing of Marines in Beirut, Lebanon; the presidential campaigns in which Jesse Jackson was the first black man to run for the office; and the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles. Michael Jackson swept the Music Awards with his #1 hits "Beat It", "Thriller", and best of all, "Billie Jean."

Suede and leather punk boots and animal sweatshirts with pin-striped jeans was the most common wardrobe worn by CHS students during the year. Other favorites included silk and leather ties, diamond-covered sweaters and vests, and tight pants with zippers all over them. The short, over-the-ear haircut was popular with the guys as well as the gals.

Memorable Capac events included the fire that destroyed the Town and Country, and the arrival of cable TV for those fortunate enough to live in town. Finally HBO, The Movie Channel, and the ever-popular, non-stop rock station, Music Television, were available in Capac.

Perhaps the best thing that happened in Capac was the graduation of the best class ever, the seniors of 1984! Everyone will miss them and I sure won't forget them.

We've Come a Long Way in '83

For many, 1983 was a year with many accomplishments and much progress in the US. The first set of test tube twins was born in the US on March 24, 1983. Many felt this is a giant step in the future well-being of this country. What could be next in medical science's future?

Sex and race discrimination appeared on a definite decline in 1983. Vanessa Williams was crowned as the first black Miss America in September. Guion Blaford was the first black man to go in space and Sally Ride was America's first woman astronaut. Also in 1983, Jessie Jackson became the first black man ever to run for Democratic nomination for President of the US.

Other important happenings in '83 were events like the Brooklyn Bridge's 100th birthday, the Russian shooting of a Korean jetliner which killed 269 people, the US invasion on the island of Grenada which forced many US medics to return to the states, and of course, Lebanon. Many people were starting to compare Lebanon with Vietnam or Korea. The US has sent and lost many Marines there. Terrorists have killed hundreds and hundreds of people. A great number of people want to help, but all anyone can do is wait and pray.

3. After twenty years of playing for the Cincinatti Reds, baseball's great Johnny Bench tips his hat to fans after playing his final games.

4. Space history was made in 1983 by Sally Ride and Guion Bluford, the first woman and the first black man to go up in space.

5. The first test-tube twins ever born in the US are held by parents Todd and Nancy Tilton.

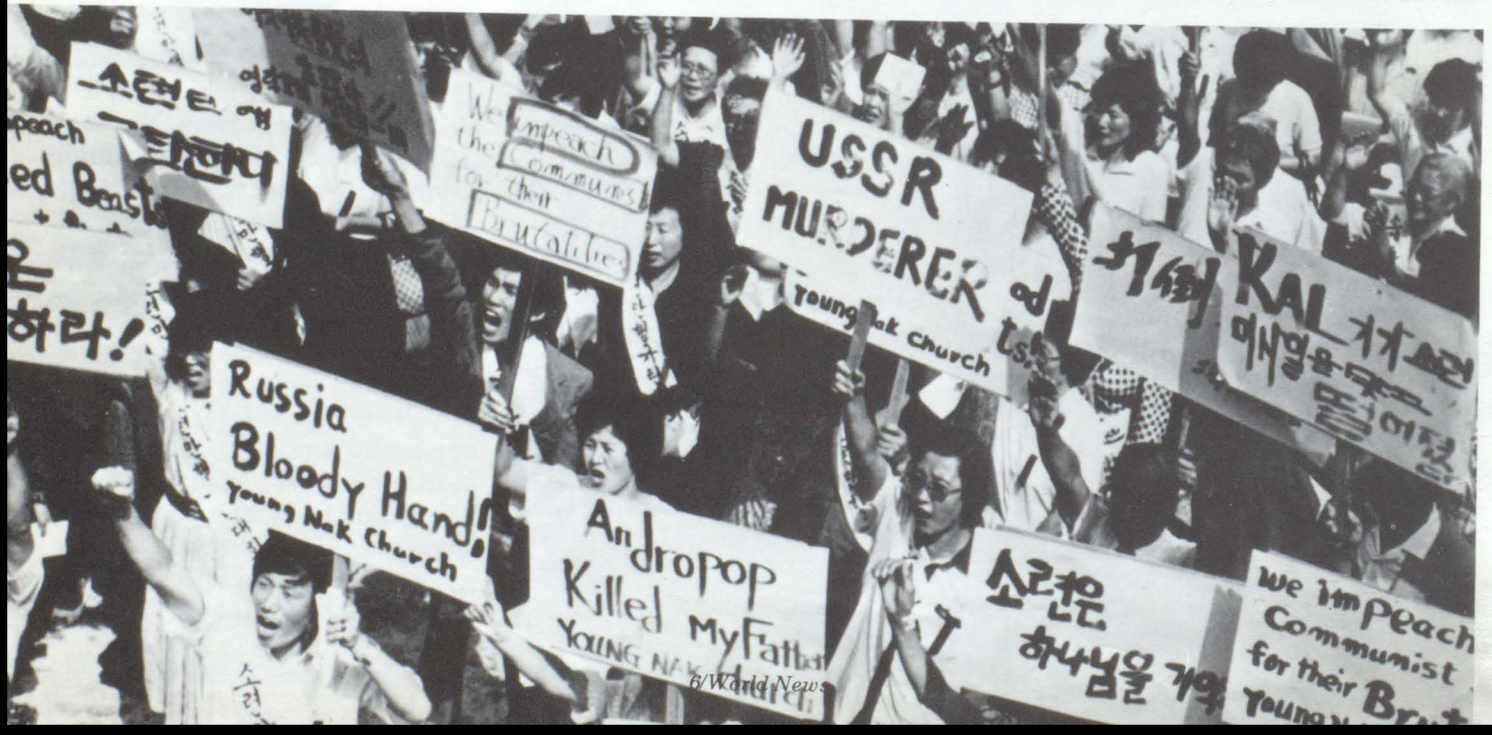

1. Four year old Lee Woo and 7 year old Ahn Gi Sook seem very tired after the long trip from Korea. The children were brought here by Mrs. Reagan for heart surgery.

2. Some 5,000 Koreans gathered for an anti-Soviet rally to protest the shooting down of a Korean jetliner.

3. Mishleen Abi Ghanem Earle weeps on the casket of her husband, Navy Medic Bryal L. Earle, who was killed in the Oct. 23rd bombing of Marine Headquarters in Beirut. The 17-year-old married him just 6 days before the attack.

Homecoming Brightens

The temperature was in the high 60's and the sun was shining at its best. Overall, it was a perfect day. No one could believe it was such a beautiful day. The night before was so cold and windy that many feared we picked a wrong weekend for Homecoming, but when Saturday, October 15, rolled around, it proved us all wrong.

The day was an absolute success from beginning to end. There was a wonderful parade downtown at noon along with a pep-rally. Each class got to show their float off to anxious spectators and the 1984 Homecoming Court got to reign over a crowd one last time before the King and Queen would be announced.

At 2:00, the game against Armada was started. Halftime soon approached and it was time to start announcing winners. "Songs" was the theme for Homecoming of 1983, and the sophomore float took first place with "Beat It" as their song. The seniors gained second place with the theme song "Hold that Tiger." With "Standing in the Endzone" as their song, the juniors achieved third place. Freshmen received fourth place with "Gonna Fly Now" and 8th graders received last place with "Hail to the Chief" as their song. The Spirit Jug was enthusiastically won by the seniors.

When it was time to announce the King and Queen, anxiety surfaced in everyone. The King's court consisted of Kris Bartling, Daryl Brunelle, David Finn, Steve Fournier and Eric Zorn. The Queen's court included Lori Hannon, Cathy Lauwers, Noreen Malburg, Karen Pykosz, and Chris Shore. The junior class representatives were Julie Zwiernik and Shane Hopkins. The sophomore class representatives were Jennifer Leonard and Steve McCray. The Freshmen representatives were Jodi Fornwall and Jeff Hunter, and the 8th grade representatives were Karen Malburg and Brandon Verellen.

The huge crowd now awaited the crowning of the 1983 King and Queen, "...and the winners are...Cathy Lauwers and Steve Fournier!"

Even though Capac lost 22-15 to the Armada Tigers, everyone's good mood was not affected. It was too nice of a day.

The game was followed by the traditional Homecoming Dance at 8:00 featuring music by the Pinheads.

Overall, the day was a wonderful success. It went down in history as one of the best Homecomings Capac ever had.

Spirit Week... a Smashing Success

Crazy, delirious, chaotic, and wild are just a few words that can describe Homecoming Week at CHS. Every year this is supposed to be a time which allows students to let themselves go and be weird and funny and wild. This year was no exception!

Monday was 50's Day. Poodle skirts, greased back hair, pony tails, and rolled-up jeans were just a small number of items seen around, and the traditional sock hop at lunch time was as fun as ever.

Tuesday was Country-Western Day where hats, boots, and guns were floating around the school along with southern accents. Dancing at lunch time was also featured, only this time it was a good old fashioned square dance.

On Wednesday, many people arrived at school in antique hats, ancestral jewelry, and long dresses (not necessarily on girls either!). Classical Day was a fun experience.

Bright colors, mini skirts, pink, yellow, purple, green, red, or blue hair, strange clothing, and exotic makeup were some things people were wearing on Thursday, Punk Rock Day. This day was quite incredible, and the dance at lunch time was certainly a flashy experience.

Friday's traditional Blue and Gold Day brings the school together as a whole. On this day an incredible amount of spirit and enthusiasm is shown by everyone. The pep assembly is full of life and excitement and this year various events created by the cheerleaders took place. Two people from each grade were chosen at random to participate in many competitions such as a pie eating contest, a water balloon toss, an orange passing contest, a dressing contest, and Simon Says. The assembly was topped of by the customary yelling contest.

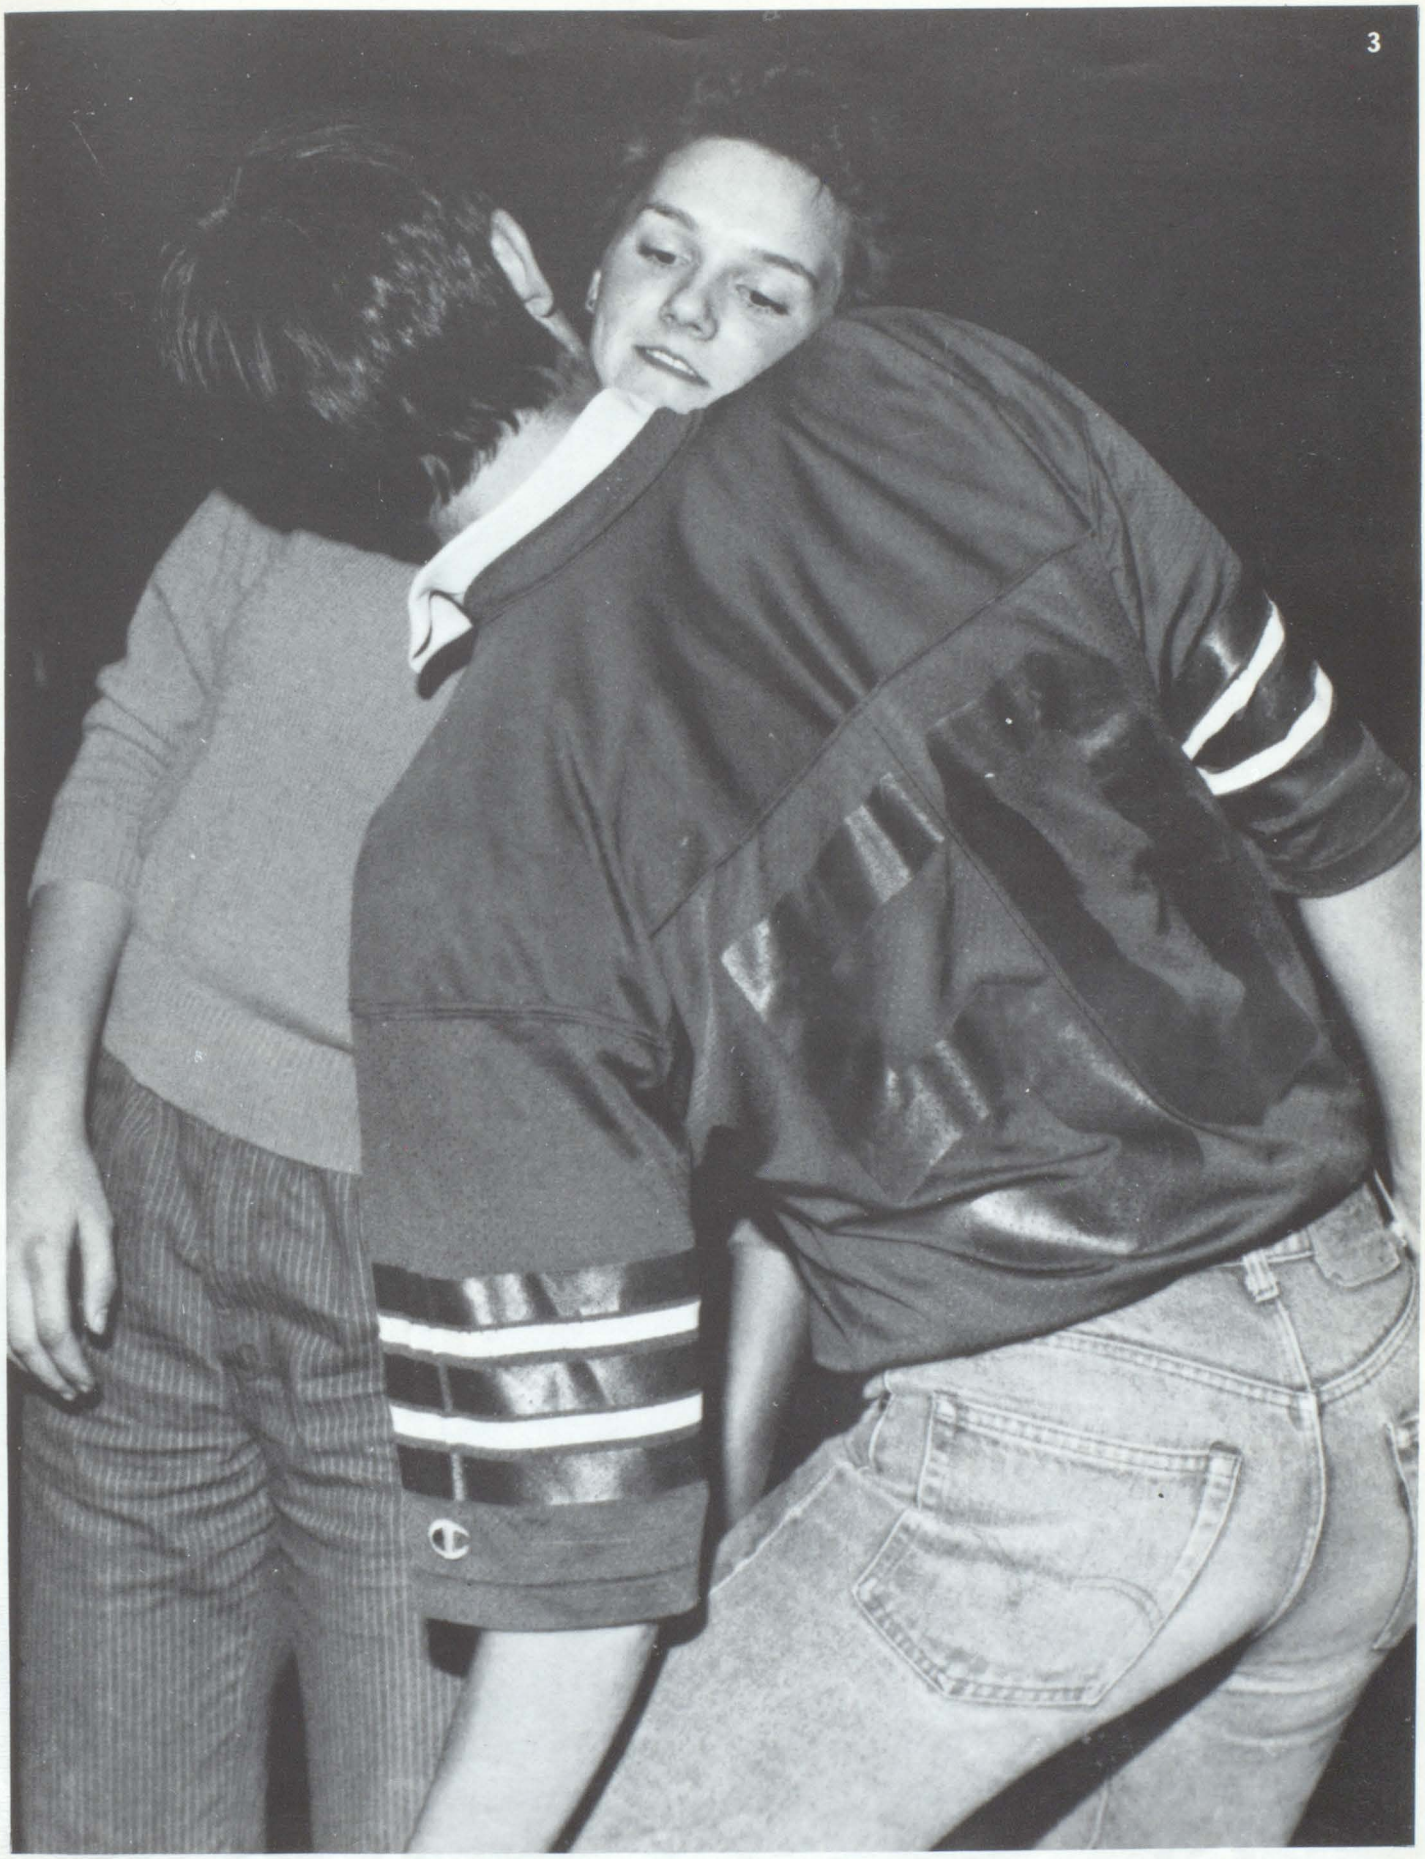

1. Spirited CHS students show off their wild outfits on Punk Rock Day.

2. Dawn Kaminski thinks Neila's outfit is quite unique.

3. P.J. Brozowski and Jamie Bollaert battle it out in the orange rolling contest.

Throughout the week, a tremendous amount of school spirit is shown. Homecoming is said to be the best time of the school year and in this school, it undoubtedly is.

Good Friends Share

What would our school be like without cliques? Society has always had them. They are what some people would love to get into, while other would like to break away. They give people a sense of ownership and a feeling of belonging, but sometimes individuality gets lost in the crowd. Good or bad though, memories are made, and perhaps lifetime friendships are begun.

with Fashion

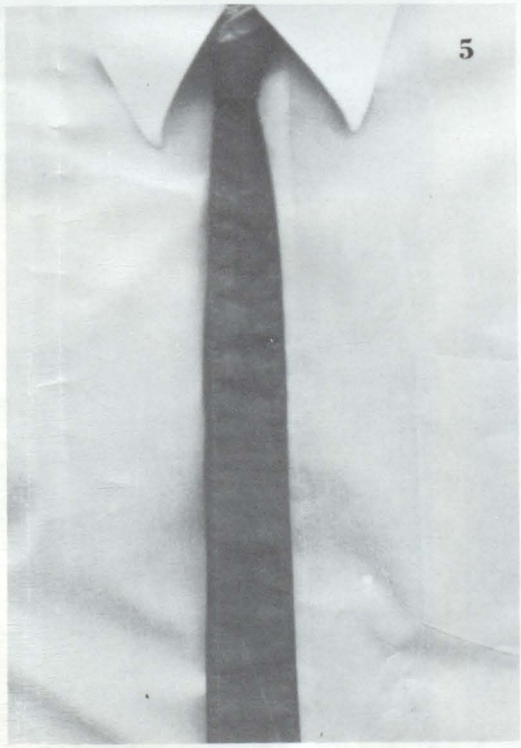

It was a sparkling year for fads and fashions. Many dazzling items were introduced. Even though fads diminish with time, fashions were well-respected.

The most popular styles seen in 1983-84 included ankle-high suede boots, pinstriped jeans, polo or oxford shirts, big colorful earrings, and bandanas in every color of the rainbow.

Even guys' fashions blazed new trails. The ties got thinner, the pants dressier, and the shirts more colorful. Lots of zippers appeared on both shirts and pants. Parachute pants became a well-known dazzler in '83-'84. Usually made of a nylon fabric with zippers all over, including around the thighs, parachute pants can be unzipped to form a pair of shorts. Clever, eh!

Girls' fashions also featured some added flash in '83-'84. Instead of plain cotton mini-skirts, leather and different colors of denim were well-liked. Speaking of different colors, dying articles of clothing and accessories was a hot craze. Anything from pants to shirts to shoes to shoelaces were dyed in a variety of colors. The halls of CHS certainly couldn't be described as dull in 1983-84.

...ACADEMICS

Handling the

Secluded behind the walls of academics are several dedicated hard-working people who make the whole school system work together.

Seven Board of Education members oversee many administrative matters, which include financial and educational policy decisions.

Mr. James Sundermann, Superintendent, oversees the work and policies of the instructional and non-instructional personnel throughout the Capac Schools.

The three able secretaries who aid in Mr. Sundermann's responsibilities are Janet Sonner, Joyce Sutherby, and Jan Rinke.

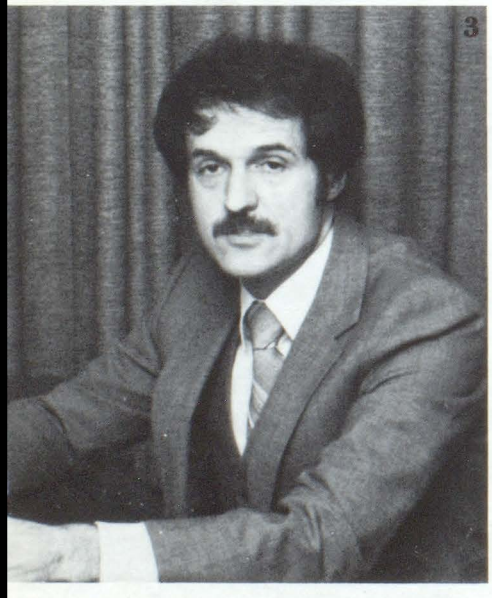

Mr. Joe Remenap is the principal at CHS. He also has many responsibilities including disciplinary concerns and faculty supervision.

High school secretaries Mrs. Pat Brozowski and Mrs. Kay Worden provide great assistance to Mr. Remenap, faculty, and students. Their daily efforts in everything from keeping accurate attendance to operating the office computer means much to successful school days.

Future Brilliant Scholars

This year, the junior high consisted solely of brightly shining eighth graders. Several teachers helped prepare them for the classes in oncoming high school years.

Language skills were taught to the eighth grade students by Mr. Don Clark, Mrs. Kathy Martz, and Miss Pam Bourque. They placed emphasis on grammar, punctuation, spelling, and usage of these elements.

Included in all of the 8th graders' schedules was an hour of World Geography, also taught by Mrs. Martz. This social studies class familiarized all of the students with current issues in the news, geographic locations, and physical geography.

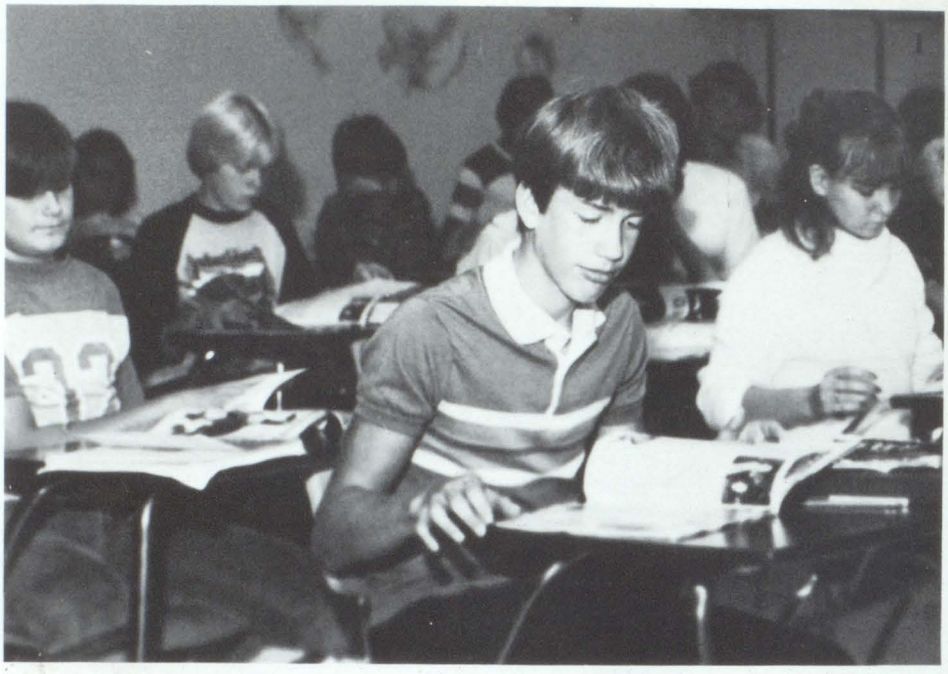

Another informative class was Science 8, instructed by Miss Kathy Kish, Mr. Don Clark, and Mr. Mike Larzelere. Students learned about the world around them and the earth itself. Mr. Clark is also a junior high counselor, and Miss Kish has an agricultural science rotation class.

Math 8 was also an important hour in eighth graders' daily schedules. Mr. Dave Young and Mr. Don Smith helped students understand basic principles of math, including algebra, to prepare them for the tough high school classes ahead.

An essential part in junior high academics is fulfilled by Miss Sheila Myron. As the resource room teacher, she contributed her expertise to those students who needed assistance in their classes.

In addition to the basics, eighth grade class schedules included band or a rotation class. If they enrolled in a rotation class, each marking period students moved into a different subject area. The classes were art, mechanical drawing, agriculture, and reading.

To round out all of the eighth grade daily classes, physical education was required. During the year, students learned to use teamwork to accomplish a goal, and accept the results--be it a victory or a defeat.

I Before E

When you think of going to an English class, you probably think of literature, terms papers, book reports, and glittering vocabulary that adds some spark to your speech. Well, that's exactly what you encounter when you enter the light of an English class at CHS.

In 1983-84, freshmen focused on the basics of vocabulary, grammar, library skills, and reading in Mr. Bob Abraham's English classes.

Mrs. Nancy Montgomery introduced sophomores into the complicated world of literature. They read a wide variety of works, ranging from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, to more recent novels like Alas, Babylon and Lord of the Flies.

Many of the CHS students procrastinated going to their English 11 class because they knew Mrs. Jane Abruzzo would make them do the inevitable--work. Through literature, essays, vocabulary, book reports, and homework, Mrs. Abruzzo made sure the juniors were always working hard.

In addition to her 10th grade classes, Mrs. Montgomery taught English to those sparkling seniors, helping them shine up their skills for the rigors of college.

On the foreign end of language, Mrs. Marilyn Manning was there to help. She headed the French and Spanish classes. Early in the year, many students came out of her classes saying "Parlez vous Francais?" or "Como esta usted." As the year progressed, so did students' language skills, becoming better prepared to meet the demands of the cosmopolitan world.

Some students desired more concentrated work on their reading skills, and Miss Pam Bourque provided help in all of the necessary areas.

As the high school resource teacher, Mr. Mike Larzelere also aided students, and in several areas, including English, math, science, and social studies.

One place that is vital to providing resources for our education is the library. Without a library, an English class certainly would be a total failure. Mrs. Janet Swayze, in her first year as librarian, and Mrs. Betty Eldridge, library aide, kept the flow of information and resources running very smoothly all year long.

Give me liberty...

Many students learned luminous events of the past in the various history and social studies classes at CHS this year.

Mr. Tom Ebner taught the freshmen about the American way of life. Discussions were detailed on the workings of federal, state, and local governments. Understanding these law-making and justice systems will ensure more-informed future generations.

The sophomores encountered Mr. Ebner in the class of World Affairs. This class explored subjects ranging from archaeology to the various religions of the world.

Mr. Ken Marzka had the pleasure of educating the junior class in American history. They learned detailed information on the pioneers, such as Daniel Boone, and expanded their knowledge on many topics which have touched American lives, including Adolf Hitler and World War II.

That final required class, Government and Economics, was instructed by Mr. William Stramaglio. Often, many of his students found his lectures both detailed and informative.

7. "The hot dog goes there."

This year, Mr. Fred Hunt was busy schooling students in a variety of science classes at CHS.

The younger underclassmen had Mr. Hunt as an instructor in General Science, Introduction to Physics, or Physical Sciences. In these classes, they learn the laws of buoyancy, gravity, and last but not least, "Murphy's Law."

The brave and brainy students who took Chemistry and learned about chemical solutions and compounds also had Mr. Hunt as a teacher.

Mrs. Jane Penzien and Mr. Dave Young taught the study of living things to those students who scheduled a biology class.

For a different look at science, Miss Kathy Kish taught Plant and Soil Science to students at Capac High. These classes educated the students on the types and parts of plants, as well as the types of soil.

As a student prepares to leave school and possibly advance to a higher degree of learning, he will most likely encounter something that employs the use of business knowledge.

At CHS, there are several business classes a student may choose. A definite necessity in the business works is to know how to type. Mr. Arden Nickerson teaches Business Law, and also the valuable skill of typing, a course now required of all freshmen.

Advanced typists schedule Office Practice into their daily agenda. In Office Practice, taught by Mrs. Sue Wallace, the students learn the finer detailed aspects of an office job.

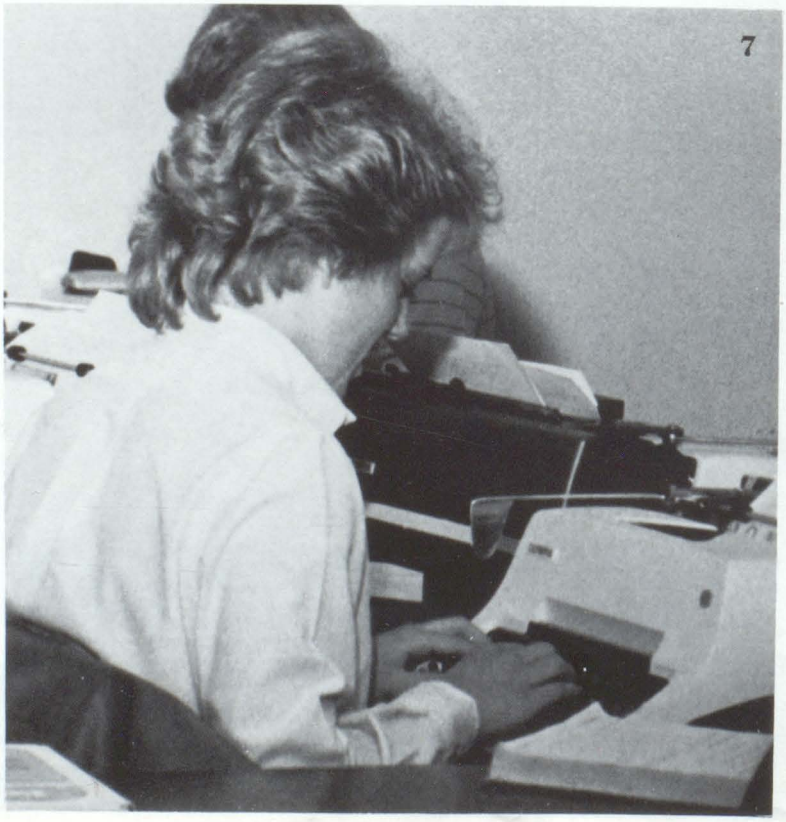

Mrs. Wallace also teaches accounting to students at CHS. They learn how to keep the books, ledgers, and journals of an everyday-business.

CHS is also keeping up with the times by having classes that teach you basic computer languages and how to produce your own programs. These classes include Business Computers, taught by Mrs. Wallace, and Computer Math, taught by Mr. Ken Montgomery, who also teaches many math classes.

With the times as they are, you must enroll in a math class, especially with the computers taking charge.

The varieties of math classes at CHS range from general math to calculus.

At each level, the student learns new equations and principles taught by one of three teachers: Mr. Ken Montgomery, Mr. Don Smith, or Mr. Dave Young.

For instance, General Math, Consumer Math, Introduction to Algebra and Algebra I taught students the basics of equations such as $x+7=9$.

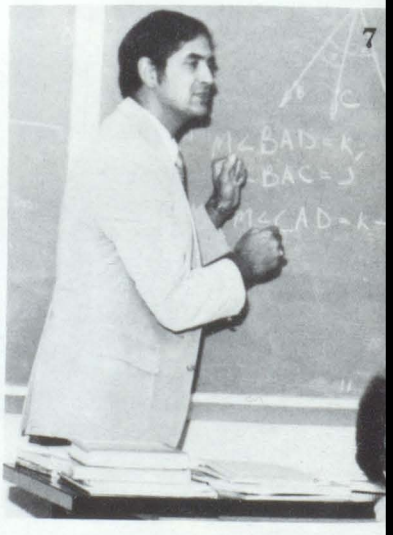

Algebra II, Geometry and Pre-Calculus, all were geared for the advanced math student.

Also included as a math credit was a computer math class taught by Mr. Ken Montgomery. The students in this class were given instructions to a computer program and what it must contain, but they must create their own program to work on the computer.

Students Pursue Skills

CHS provides classes for students who are interested in other skilled areas. These classes may contribute to a student's career or leisure hours spent in this hardworking world.

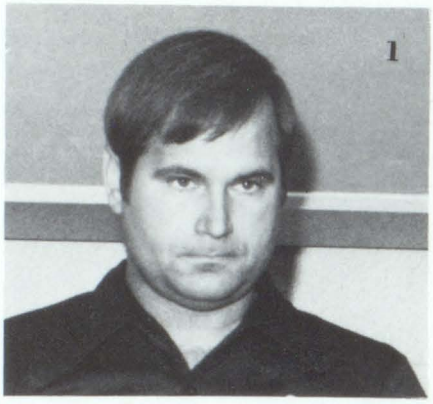

Mr. Paul Watt teaches Mechanical Drawing I-IV. These classes teach from basic to advanced drafting and mechanical skills.

Mr. Al Keskimaki teaches industrial arts where students learn how to use many different tools and create many useful projects. Students learn safety always comes first.

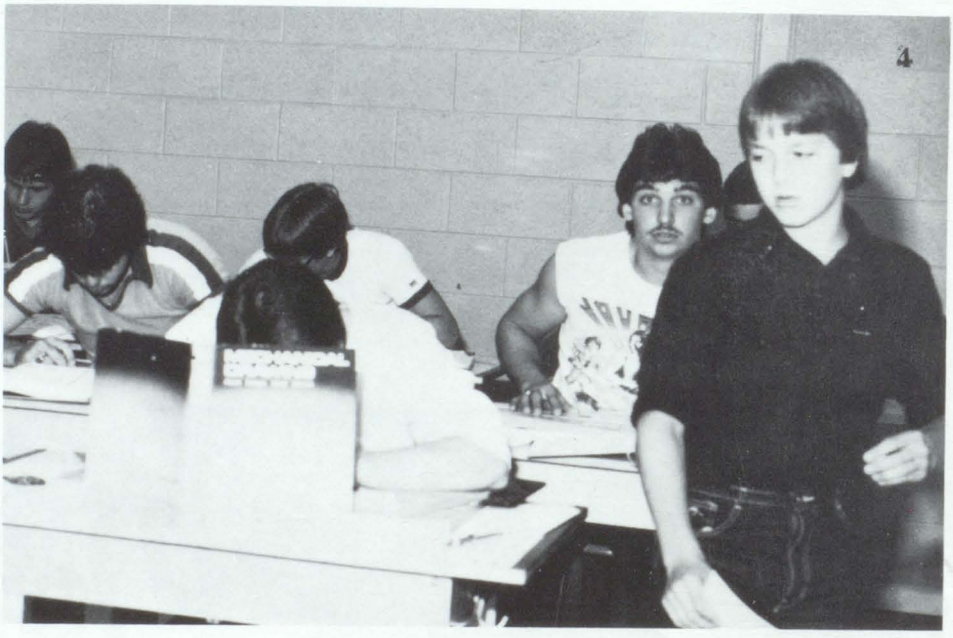

Art classes I-IV are taught by Miss Sue Miller. Students learn to work with chalk, clay, charcoal, paint, paper mache and more. Some of the projects have been displayed in art shows at CHS to show parents the creative work students have done.

Physical Education is taught by Miss Barb Redding who has a very well-planned schedule for her students. This class teaches students new physical skills and teamwork. It can provide students with healthier bodies and a postive outlook on life.

Mr. Jack Seidler also brightens lives by teaching students the art of music. His students enjoy playing in marching band at CHS football games. They also enjoy going to other schools where they compete to show their instrumental skills.

84 STRIDING ON TO...

...ORGANIZATIONS

FFA...

The motto of the Future Farmers of America is "Learning to do; doing to learn; earning to live; living to serve." This reflects what the FFA is all about: a national youth organization whose main purpose is to develop leadership, cooperation, and citizenship in the young stars of tomorrow.

"I see more participation and active involvement from all the age levels in the FFA," said Miss Kish, the FFA advisor. That is exactly what is happening. Each year, there are more people who are becoming members.

Leading the 1983-84 FFA organization were these officers: President Cathy Lauwers, Vice-President Carol DeSmet, Treasurer Ron Rodzos, Reporter Chuck Blanchard, Sentinel Bill Hencak, and Alumni Secretary Andrea Verellen.

The first step in becoming a member is the greenhand initiation. That's when the older members have their fun. But since the initiation is secret, details can not be revealed. After the greenhand initiation is the formal FFA initiation, which was held at Capac this year along with the Imlay City FFA members.

Joining FFA is not all fun and games. When contest dates are approaching, FFAers get down to work.

All year round the FFA holds money-making projects. In October they picked apples at Lexington Apple Orchard and pressed them into delicious apple cider. In January they sold citrus, and in the spring the FFA and the agricultural students learned how to operate and maintain a greenhouse.

Not only does this organization make money, but more importantly they take part in many learning activities, such as the Michigan State University Broiler Project where each member raises chickens for seven weeks, and then takes the five best chickens to MSU where they undergo a series of tests.

In the Big Acre Project, members raise an acre of land, and try to get the best yield with the minimum cost.

The Leadership Contests offer members an opportunity to demonstrate their talents in parliamentary procedure, public speaking, and many other areas.

Another competition is the Agricultural Skills Contest, where the FFA members judge horses, cows, sheep, land, and many other things that belong to a farm. Last but not least, students compete in the St. Clair County Land Judging, evaluating the land for its production potential.

FFA is a shining example that the "stars of tomorrow" really work their way to the top.

NHS... Brilliance and

The National Honor Society is much more than just an organization for the more brilliant people of our school. These members have to be of service to the people, serve as leaders, uphold a good character, be active in school, and show others the importance of good grades.

To be eligible for induction into this fine organization, one must have and maintain a 3.0 grade point average and possess excellent leadership and citizenship qualities.

The officers for 1983-84 were Lisa Gubbles-President; Noreen Malburg-Vice-President; Julie Miller-Secretary; Sandy Cilluffo-Treasurer; and Paul Schliebe-Reporter. All were chosen for their outstanding qualities.

The N.H.S. members show their good character and citizenship by every year spending a few days at the convalescent and nursing homes cheering up the patients and bringing them handmade gifts. To raise money for these gifts, the organization sells helium filled balloons at all three schools during Homecoming. The costumes and fun involved in this CHS tradition are always a delight to children young and old.

Chaos and

"Hey, where are my headlines?"
"Where's the copy?"
"Cut my pictures!"
"Where's the glue?"

If you have ever been around the journalism room when yearbook or Chieftain deadlines are near, you would realize that it isn't an easy job. Although the work can be fun at times, more often it is hectic.

This year has been especially hectic because for the first time, both publications have been packed into one hour. Most students have jobs on both The Chieftain and the yearbook. Duties are many, and include selling ads to support the two publications, writing Chieftain stories and yearbook copy, designing layouts, doing Chieftain paste-ups, making headlines, taking and developing pictures, and doing lots of typing.

The pressure is great, but satisfaction is great, too. Stapling the last pages of a Chieftain issue and sitting down for a good long look at it can make up for all the chaos of previous days. Finally, that special day in May arrives, and the yearbooks are unveiled. For the journalism staff, the book holds many memories with a story behind every page. Seeing the final product brings real satisfaction.

The St. Clair County Skill Center is located on Range Road in Marysville. Students leave Capac at 11:15 a.m. and ride the bus for approximately 45 minutes.

When the students arrive they await a bell telling them to go to class. Each student heads for his or her designated area to begin their occupational training for the day.

When taking the Health Cluster classes, one learns how to become a nurse's aide, dental assistant, or medical lab assistant. All the occupations in the Health Cluster are job-related except for nurse's aide which is taught in the class.

The Food Service program provides students with maintenance and service of food skills. They work their way up the career ladder in food management starting at dishwasher and moving up to cooks and hostesses.

The Business Administration of the Skill Center is actively involved in DECA and BOEC. Many of the students compete in various levels of business such as accounting, typing, data processing, and IBM computers.

The High Bay Area consists of welding, carpentry, auto-body, auto mechanics, and various types of mechanical repairs. You must wear safety glasses when working in this area due to the dangerous machinery, and various jobs the students are applying themselves in.

The Skill Center students are drawn into a work atmosphere and acknowledged as employees rather than students. This benefits the student in employee-employer based relationships.

The training is long and difficult at time, but is well worth the effort, especially when applying for one's occupational goal in life.

Band Shines in Competition

Being in band is not easy. It takes time, patience, devotion, and the love for music. That's what all 65 members of the Capac High School band program possess.

This year the officers were President-Peter Gonzalez; 1st Vice President-Beth Seidler; 2nd Vice President-Diana Kot; Secretary-Jenni Leonard; Treasurer-Andrea Verellen. The class representatives were 12th grade-Cathy Lauwers; 11th grade-Karen Koning; 10th grade-Doug Moore; 9th grade-Debbie Aleck; 8th grade-Brandon Verellen.

Band was involved in many activities this year. They started off with marching band. Homecoming and all the other games that the band played at were very special because it added a unique spark to the football games and festivities.

Something very different happened this year during the football season for the marching Chiefs. They went to Mt. Pleasant to attend the Central Michigan University Band Day. At half time, they joined 25 other high school bands, and put on a spectacular show!

The fun and hard work did not end after marching band. Members traded their hats and plumes for a little inside work. The Christmas Concert was the band's next big step. This music festival is always a nice seasonal event and gets everyone in the mood for the upcoming holidays. After the Christmas Concert came the Spring Concert which gets better each year. Finally, graduation found the band providing "Pomp and Circumstance" and other excellent music for that special night.

Each year the band as a whole gets to demonstrate all the hard work that they have put forth. They do this at district competition, and if the band scores high enough, they participate in state competition. Preparing for district and state competition is a lot of hard work, and Mrs. Seidler does not let anyone get away without putting in at least 110%. The Capac Concert Band is highly respected when it comes to competition. It has been said that other directors would very much like to have the band that Mr. Seidler has.

The Business Office Education Club (BOEC) is a national organization for students who are interested in the business world. The purpose of BOEC is to encourage students to develop their business and leadership skills.

Throughout the year, BOEC members participate in regional competition, and if they are good enough, go to state competition.

This year, officers are Cindy Bohr, President; Kathy Roy, Vice President; Sandy Ciluffo, Secretary; Paula Roggow, Treasurer; Patti Jackson, Reporter; Lisa Gubbles, Parliamentarian.

One of this year's projects is a methane converter. It takes animal wastes and lets it ferment into methane which will heat the greenhouse. "We hope that the project will be done early next year," said Bill Nabors, Exaltens president.

Every Wednesday the group drives down to Warren to the GM Tech Center.

This year, officers are as follows: Bill Nabors, President; Karen Kaufman, Treasurer; Pat Titterington and Mike Nabors, Vice Presidents; and Kim Bartling, Secretary.

The Health Careers club is one of the learn-by-doing clubs. Each member must work 24 hours in either Lapeer County General or Yale Community Hospital to complete their membership obligation.

At either hospital the members work along side the nurses. Being a Health Careers member is very rewarding because you can explore the world of nursing without being the one the nurse is working on.

This year the club had different kinds of fund raisers. Besides their yearly bake sale at the bank, members also sponsored a homecoming dance for middle and school students.

The club ended the year with their awards banquet, which is always a sad time because there are a lot of old members saying good-bye. But as the older members graduate, they leave with a lot of fond memories, and a lot of knowledge which will help them in their years to come.

Capac has established a very fine organization, but not many people know that it exists because of the small size of the membership.

The club's name is Capac Ham Radio Organization (CHARO). Even though the membership is small, there are many advantages that will help the members in their years to come. They learn the principles of the radio technology field, which may help in a future career, or make these individuals of great help to others in emergencies.

This year the Capac Ham Radio will take a trip to Toledo for a Ham Radio Festival where they sell equipment for radios and other high technology. They are also planning an emergency day with other hospitals in the area. They will demonstrate their abilities in the event of nuclear war.

Aides Brighten

Being an aide is not just an easy A. There are many advantages. A student gets a taste of what teachers and administrative staff do, and he realizes that it is not a glamorous job. There are papers to be corrected, messages to be delivered and attendance to be taken. Time is spent getting homework for other students, being nice to the other students that have that class, and also dealing with a lot of headaches from the pressure of that hour.

There are many rewards for being an aide. One is reaching a higher maturity level because of all the responsibility that is placed on him or her. You must be able to handle the class or a student when the teacher leaves the room.

"Being an aide is a challenge. I learned things about an office that I would never have learned. It is really nice when the younger kids look up to me and treat me with respect. It's a rewarding experience," said Theresa Worden, an aide for the office.

The promising 1983 season of the Chiefs varsity football team was shot down by a very disappointing 4 and 5 record. The Chiefs were ranked 9th in the state after starting off with a 2 & 0 jump in the season and also found themselves ranked high in the coaches' poll in the Port Huron Times Herald. After this quick start the Chiefs did everything but win their next 5 games. The Chiefs outscored their opponents in almost all the stats except the most important one, that in the score. The Chiefs followed up with 2 wins at the end of the season, to go out on a good note.

By the end of the season, the team had produced a very good attitude and a mass of talent. The Chiefs were very proud to have P.J. Browzowski who made 1st team Blue Water Area and first team S.T.A. and was matched by his counterpart Dave Conrad. Capac also accomplished second team S.T.A. recognition with Dave Finn, both ways, and Pete Gonzalez on offense. Dave Finn was able to make second team both offense and defense on the Blue Water Area team, too. Having these individuals on this team brought many good qualities out and made it enjoyable.

Capac Harriers Harass Opponents

The 1983 boys cross country team struggled, but failed to jell into the powerhouse that Coach Hunt had expected. The Reese Invitational performance showed that the "Express" was still around. Led by senior Craig Lohmann's fourth place finish, juniors Tom Lottie, Don Manuszak and Vince Griffiths crossed the finish line in 18th, 19th and 20th positions, followed by sophomore Jon Clark's 30th place finish.

This earned the team a second place finish in the team competition. Team captain Craig Lohmann also placed 14th in the State Championship individual run and was elected to the Port Huron Times-Herald newspaper's All-Blue Water Area first team. The future of boy's cross country at Capac appears bright, if the "Express" couples-up and all the engines go in the same direction.

The 1983 girls cross country season was highlighted by the team's fifth place performance at the state championship meet in Big Rapids.

Freshman Suzy Stansberry raced to a second place finish which earned her "All-State" honors. Teammates, junior Karen Koning and freshman Anna Lester, also were medalists placing tenth and thirteenth respectively. Four team members were awarded "All Blue Water Area" honors by the Port Huron Times Herald newspaper: Suzy Stansberry, first team; Karen Koning, Anna Lester, and freshman Lisa Behnke, second team honors.

This season's team was the strongest girls cross country ever fielded by Capac and the future looks very bright for the hustling harriers.

1983 proved to be a "rebuilding" year for the lady Chiefs at Capac High School. Following the departure of all-league guards Bridget Bohr and Danine Jurn from an 18-3 squad of a year ago, the Chiefs looked to a strong junior cast to gain experience and improve as the season progressed.

That proved to be exactly the case. Following a 2-5 record after the first seven games, the Chiefs won seven of their remaining eleven games to finish the regular season at 9-9. Of the nine losses, four were by six points or less and of the six non-league opponents on the schedule, five were rated in the top 10 of the area. The sixth, Marine City, entered their encounter with the Chiefs with a 10-6 record. Capac polished off the Mariners by 12, 56-44.

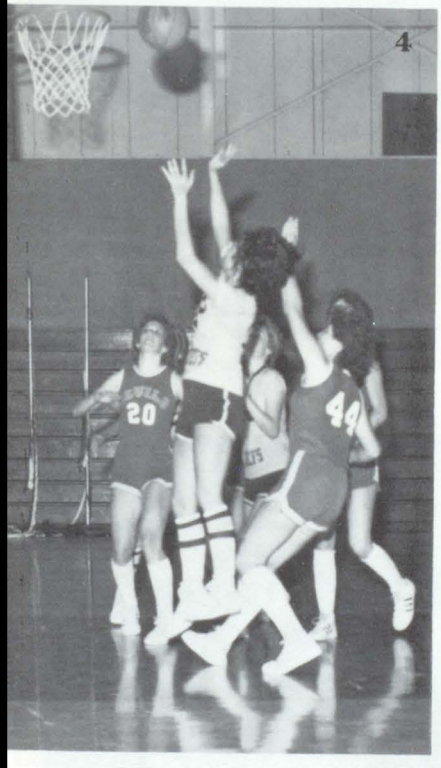

Capac finished in a tie for second place in the S.T.A. with Armada, registering an 8-4 mark behind S.T.A. champ Brown City 12-0. The Chiefs and the Turks sqared off for the District championship Nov. 23, with Capac winning by a 34-29 count.

All league selections included junior Karen Rawlins to the first team; senior Lori Hannon and junior Diana Kot to the second team; and junior Heather Messner honorable mention.

First-year coach, Gary Carter, summed-up his initial season with the Chiefs with these words: "Seldom does one get an opportunity to work with ten fine young women as I have, to be part of their lives and to share victory and defeat. Each gal grew in some way and I trust I was a positive instrument in their development."

The Capac varsity volleyball team did not have the season that they expected. They started with 2 quick wins against Almont and Memphis, and then pulled out another tough victory over the Armada Tigers 15-6, 15-12.

Following these well-earned victories, the Chiefs' season hit a low spot when they lost 4 in a row.

To boost their morale, the Chiefs needed a win and along came the Memphis Yellowjackets. Brown City was the only other win for the Chiefs, closing out a 19 match season. The Chiefs ended up 5-6 in the league, 7-12 overall.

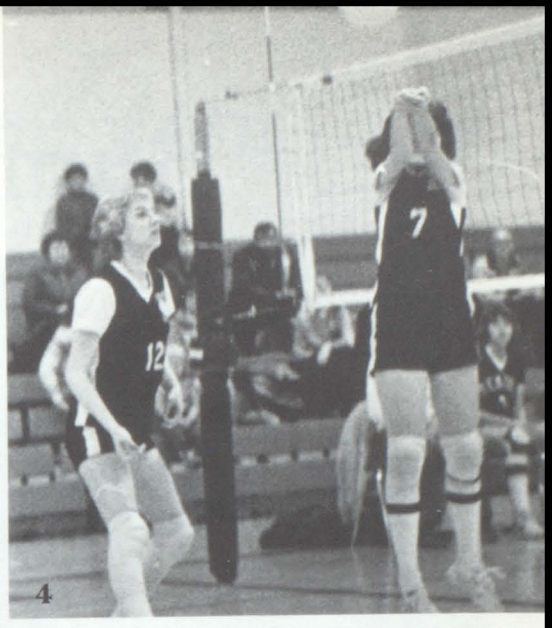

The girls will be hoping for a better season next year and we'll mark this one down for experience.

Grapplers Keep Winning Tradition

Wrestling is one of Capac's most productive sports and the 1984 wrestling team showed true to this by ending their season with an impressive 13 wins and 2 losses. They captured 4 trophies this year: 2nd place at the Caro 16-team tournament, 2nd place at the Capac Invitational, 1st at the Sandusky Invitational and 2nd at the Blue Water Classic. Along with capturing these trophies, they went 8 wrestlers to regionals, and 4 qualified for the state tournament.

The year was started with a new coaching staff headed by Mr Pat Murphy. The new techniques he showed his wrestlers helped them to dominate the mats throughout the season.

Many individuals also stood above the norm and had outstanding records. Four wrestlers placed high enough at regionals to qualify for state competition. Daryl (Pee Wee(Brunelle, one of the few wrestlers in the area to break 100 career wins, ended his season with a 37-7 record, placing at every tournament. Peter Gonzalez, also a great asset to the Chiefs, placed high at many tournaments and qualified for state a second time. Peter's record, 33-11, shows how dedicated a wrestler he was and how much the team valued his participation. Oscar Aguinaga, after beginning the season with a slow start, built up steam to end this season with a 29-11 record. Oscar was the only district champion from the Capac squad. The last 2-time state qualifier is Steve Fournier. Steve, co captain along with Daryl Brunelle, excelled in all of his matches to finish the season with a 37-10 record. These 4 seniors will be greatly missed from next year's wrestling team.

Other outstanding wrestlers were Craig Lohman, a state-qualifier last year, who qualified for regionals and had a fabulous record of 25-10. Tony Snow, Jeff Seros and Tom Lottie also qualified for regionals after putting in a tremendous season as starters.

The whole wrestling team should be proud of the overall effort and success they had throughout the 1983-84 season.

Varsity Has Excellent Season

In the spring of 1983, Capac had one of their most brilliant years in baseball. They finished first in their league with an 11-1 record and made it to regionals. There, they suffered a disappointing loss to Redford St. Mary's for the second straight year.

Capac was led by seven starting seniors, one junior, and one sophomore. The S.T.A. most valuable player and Blue Water Area selection, Curt Dean, led the Chiefs in both pitching and hitting. Dean accumulated a 7-0 record and a .434 batting average. Mark Carroll set a school record with 32 hits and led the Chiefs with 24 R.B.I.'s.

The Chiefs may have lost two fine athletes, but Coach Bob Abraham built his '84 program around the two remaining starters, Dale Jones and Daryl "Pee Wee" Brunelle. In '83, Jones carried a fine .429 batting average and handled his fine pitching staff well. Pee Wee carried a .377 average and played second base like he owned it. The Chiefs had many young players to create a respectable 1984 season.

Seniors Shine...

Ours was the class that always shined with excitement and adventure. We would do anything for attention--from chicken fights in the hallway to the choir assembling in the activity area to sing a few verses from the ever popular "New York, New York." As seniors, we liked to lead the school with sparkle and flash.

We were like one big family. We had grown up together, and had become the best of friends. We laughed, cried, studied, and played together for years. We got to know each other pretty well.

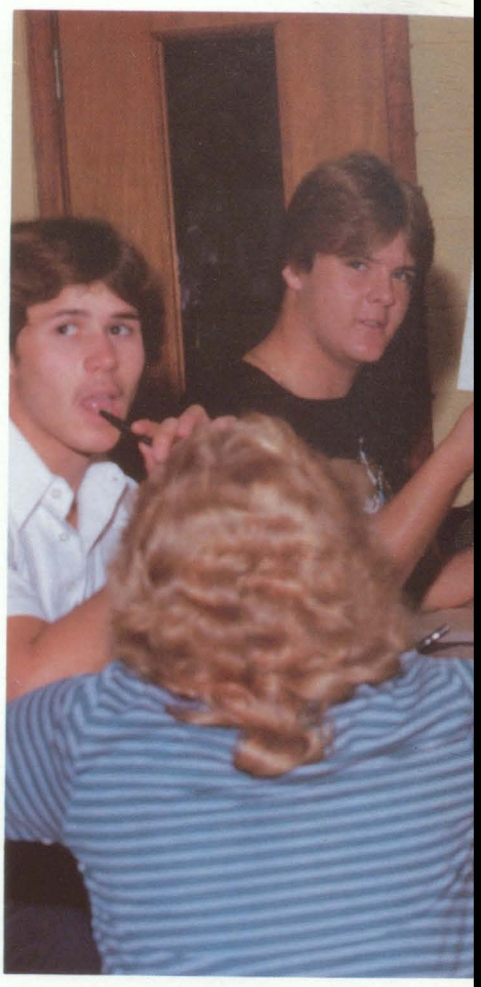

Becoming seniors brought us closer together, which in turn made us wilder and crazier than ever.

Early in the year we began looking forward to Homecoming. We were determined to win the spirit jug, and since it was our senior Homecoming, we were going to have fun doing it.

Almost all of us got into the spirit of things by dressing crazy throughout the week. The school was in awe when the senior guys bared their legs and wore dresses for Classical Day. After it was announced that seniors had won the spirit jug, we considered ourselves number one, simply because we were seniors.

Then came the planning of the senior trip, and the picking of our cap and gown colors, class song, class flower, etc...That really spread senioritus throughout the class. When asked where we'd like to go for our trip, of course New York was suggested by the choir, but everyone finally decided on Florida, and started saving their money for the big event.

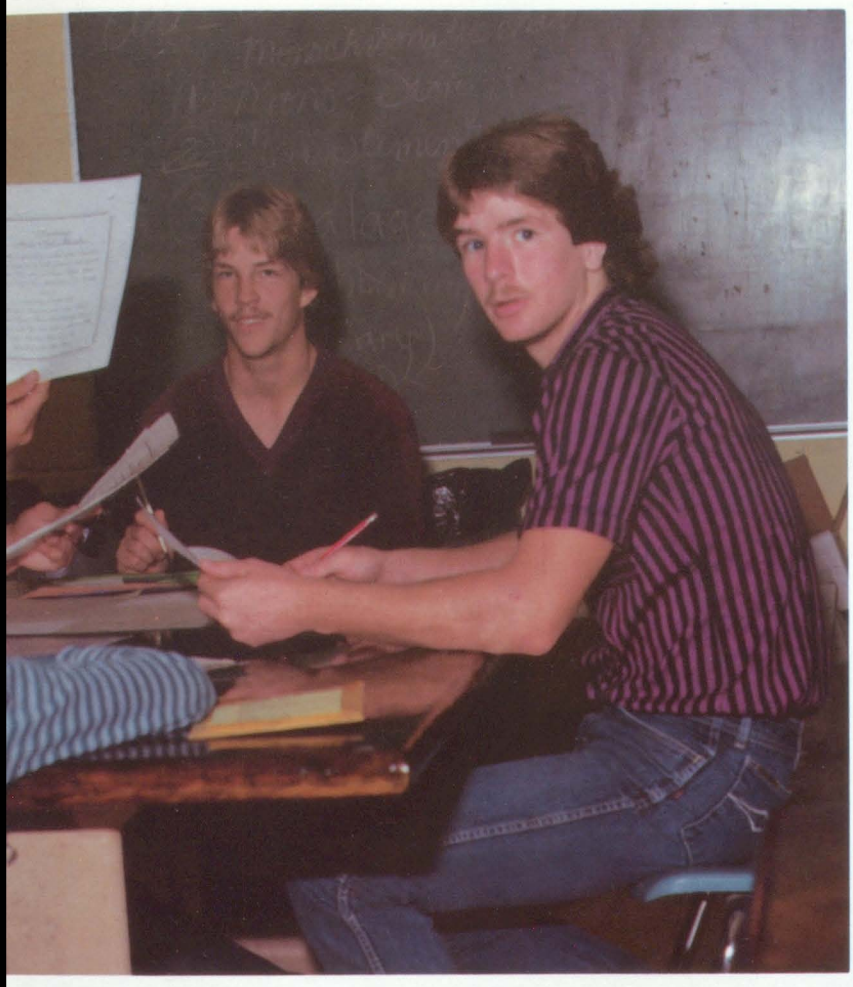

All year people were making plans for their future. Whether it was applying at various colleges or looking for a job, all agreed the school year was approaching the end quickly. There is no doubt, however, that the class of '84 will produce many stars who will shine with success in whatever they attempt.

...another talented Capac musician!

Capac's class of 1985 has had a very busy year. It was their turn to sponsor the prom. Costs were high this year, so to help keep prices reasonable, they held masquerade parties and a Christmas ball.

These fund raisers helped considerably. The prom was held at the Fogcutter in Port Huron with the live band, "Friendly Persuasion."

Juniors deserve respect for all the hard work they did for the seniors. Hopefully, as much effort will be put toward their senior prom to make it a most memorable occassion.

This is a very mature class of juniors. Next year they have a lot to look forward to.

"...you still have one year left before you have to choose between college and a career," says Michelle Randall.

Stacy Scharder adds, "...this year we can still loaf around; next year we have big decisions that have to be made."

Most of the others agree that being a junior is great, but next year when they are seniors will be even better!

Capac High School Class of 1986. To some people those words mean everything: good times, bad times, and lots of hard work. But most of all they mean friendship, a strong friendship, and the togetherness that got them through this year with a feeling of achievement.

The sophomores worked hard together to make Homecoming a success. Their effort paid off: they took first place in the float competition, and second overall. Their participation in all of the events exceeded every year before.

The class of '86 wasn't all fun and games. They liked to take on big responsibilities, like the Capac-Yale dance in February. Before they got to "move to the music," volunteers had to set everything up. It was quite a job, since twice as many people were expected to show up. Lots of people did show, and it was a success. Afterward, those sophomores did a fine job cleaning everything up.

All in all, this class has a fine future ahead.

Those industrious, hard working freshmen.

Freshmen..."We may only be freshmen now, but we're moving up fast," warns Jason Gallourakis. Jeff Hunter adds, "We're the best, so get rid of the rest!" All Bonita Vineyard would tell us was to "wait 'til next year!"

With all that conviction, how can they go wrong?

The whole class gets along pretty well together. They can't drive yet, but that doesn't slow them down a bit. The weekend still means lots of fun and good times. Going to a friend's house for the night can be very exciting.

This was their first year in the high school, but the class of '87 handled it in their usual fashion..."We may be rowdy, (and a little immature) but we have fun!" says Lela Marshall.

This class is different from every other. They don't believe in 'looking up to the higher classes.' Class of '87 thinks the upperclassmen should look up to them!

The gong show they put on last March may have proved their point: Some of those upper classmen looked pretty silly.

The eighth grade had a crazy side to them and they weren't afraid to show it. During Spirit Week, they let loose, wearing anything from cowboy hats to garbage bags. They ran a close race, taking turns with the other classes winning events day to day. Overall the class of '88 came in third place with their float placing fourth.

Adjusting the the high school routine really wasn't that hard for many eighth graders because they felt they were so separated from the high school. Many kids didn't mind being separated because they said that it gave them time to adjust. Others wanted to be included with the rest of the school, as Tom Reichart says, "I think we should eat lunch with the high school."

The class of '88 takes great pride in themselves. "I think that our class is more intelligent than the classes before us," says Nick Gonzalez. This might be controversial, but so far the results look promising.

Christine,

Happily remembering the little girl you used to be. Proudly recognizing the young woman you've become. Lovingly wishing you joy as great as the joy you've given us by being such a special daughter.

Love, Mom and Dad

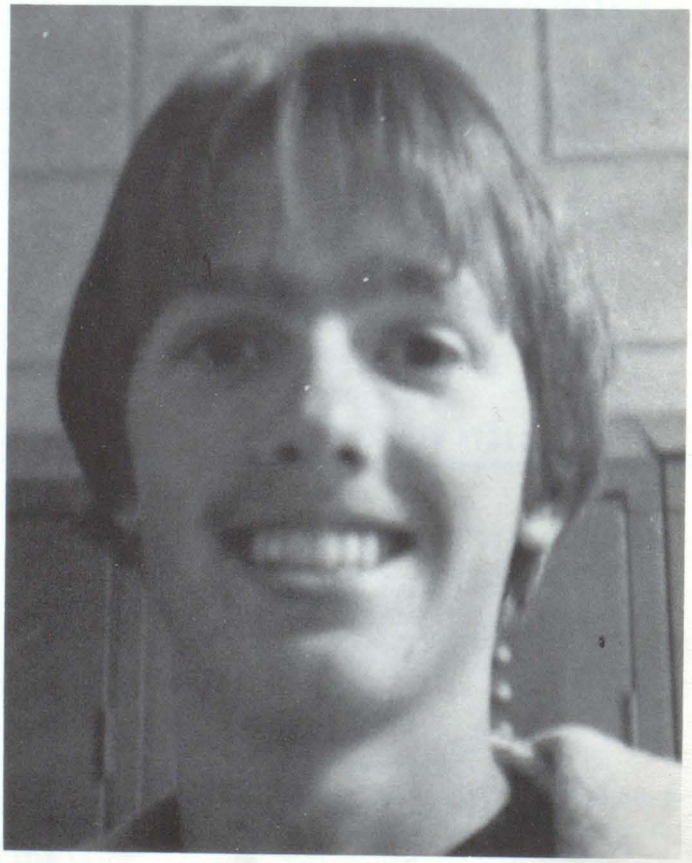

Carolyn,

The only way to have a friend is to be one yourself. The only way to keep a friend is to give from that wealth, for friendship must be double fold. Each one must give his share of feelings true if he would reap the blessings that are there.

Congratulations and much love, Mom and Dad

To a very special son,

With loving thoughts and appreciation for many qualities that make you such a wonderful son. For the many precious gifts you add everyday–

The gift of wonder as we watched you grow

The gift of pride as we see your charms fulfilled

The gift of joy as we share each special moment

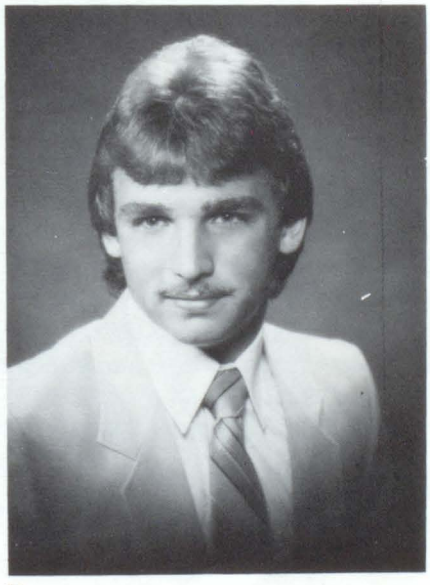

The gift of love, a love untouched by time, a love that is your forever

We cherish you for all you are and we're very proud to say that you are our son.

Love,

Mom and Dad

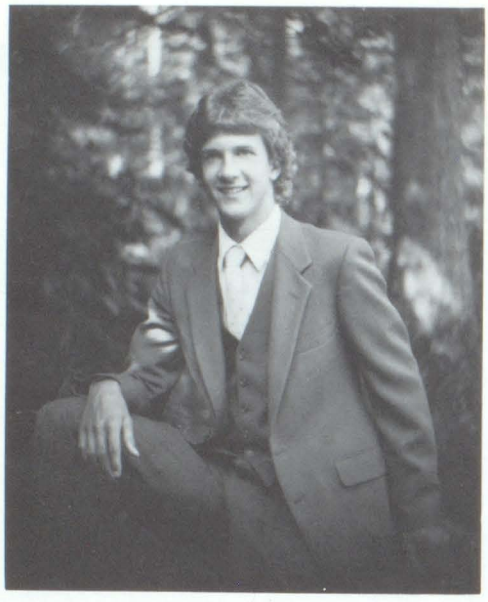

Dave,

Wherever you go,
What ever you do,
Be happy to know,
That we love you.

Dad, Mom, Deena, Dan and Darwin

Dave,

Good luck in everything you set out to accomplish.

We love you,

Dad and Mom

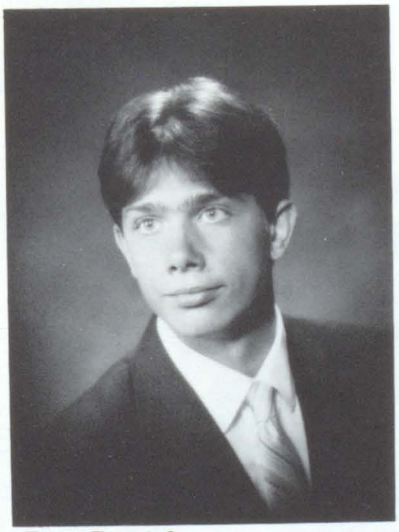

Dear Theresa,

One broken dream is not the end of all dreaming,
One shattered hope is not the end of all,
Beyond the storm and tempest, stars are gleaming,
Still build your castles, though your castles fall.
Though many dreams comes tumbling in disaster,
And plain heartache meet us down the years,
Still keep your faith, your dreams and hopes to master,
And seek to find the lesson of your tears.
Not all is as it should be! See how littered
With sorry wreckage is life's restless stream.
Some dreams are vain, but be you not embittered
And never cry that you have ceased to dream!

From: Mom and Dad With Love

Dear Patrick,
A son is a precious gift from God. To see a little baby grow into a little boy and then into an adult you can be proud for all who know him is a gift from God to parents. You have brought us much happiness and we are proud of you. Keep your keen sense of humor, your gentleness and consideration and never compromise your convictions.

Love,
Dad and Mom

Sandra,

All things are possible to one who believes;
They are less than difficult to one who hopes;
They are easy to one who loves;
And they are simple to anyone who does all three.

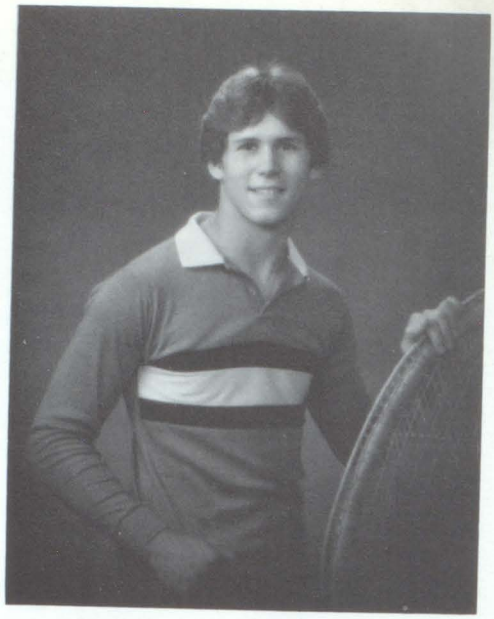

Love, Mom, Dad, and Linda

Congratulations, Susan,

"With the trumpet and the sound of the horn,
Make a joyful symphony before the King, our Lord."
Psalm 98:6
With your gifts of music.
May His love be shown,
In symphonies He leads you,
May His joy be known.
Jesus loves you, and we love you,

Mom, Dad, David, Thomas

To "Slick,"
You're the last, but not the least.

Love,
Mom, Dad,
Carolyn & Ed

Best of luck to the Class of 1984!!

This volume of The Capacian was printed by InterCollegiate Press Inc., in Shawnee Mission, Kansas. Typesetting was done in various point sizes and styles at the production facilities of the Tri-City Times in Imlay City. Special thanks to K rl Bayer, editor of the Times, for arranging this service for us, and a very special thanks to Cathy King, the typesetter. We greatly appreciate her many hours of work, and the professional job she always did.

Color photogra y was taken and processed by Marion's Studio of Brown City, Michigan. Marion's also took many candid photos and all team and group pictures, including the 84 appearing on pages 2-3. World Wide Photos, Inc. of New York, provided selected photos for pages 4-5 and 6-7.

Special thanks go to Steve Carlson, ICP representative, and Brent McCoy, Marion's photographer. Finally, special acknowledgment goes to Kristopher Bartling, whose fine and imaginative artwork appears on the cover and divider pages of the book.
